

Eva Luz Salazar Delgadillo

CHRIO Goodwill Ambassador

Executive Director of the Mission Nuevo Leon/ Mexico

Eva Luz is born in Monterrey Nuevo Leon on September 19, 1994. Luz holds a graduate degree in International Relations at the Faculty of Political Science and Public Administration (UANL). She is very passionate in becoming a social justice worker, and with the help of her previous volunteer positions, she was able to work towards and build her passion up. For instance, she volunteered at a company called Akra Polyester, where she started to work the same year she finished her degree in International Relations, and was able to work her way up to a Project Assistant in this company. Along with this experience, Luz previously volunteered at an association known as the DIF of Monterrey in 2015, which is part of the restaurant chain called Applebees. Within this volunteer position, Luz was offering help to children and assisting them in various different types of activities. This workshop was a part of the Innovation and Entrepreneurship Nuevo Leon, in which volunteers are assigned to create new projects which will benefit the community, and will work towards addressing some troubles or conflicts in some areas in Nuevo Leon.

Along with the volunteer experience and her commitment to social justice practices, she is also quite devoted to improve the lives of people in need, who have experienced human rights violations. Luz holds great passion in defending those, whose rights have been violated, and further hope to hold a career as a human rights defender. Furthermore, her passion of becoming a human rights defender allowed Luz to hold a placement as a Goodwill Ambassador to an organization that is working on behalf of the Canadian Human Rights International Organization-CHRIO. CHRIO is further allowing her passion to come to life. Through this placement, she is able to help the marginalized, helpless, defenseless and depressed individuals. CHRIO further allows Luz to make changes in Mexico, and further help those who have suffered from violations of human rights.
